

Optimize Your Content with CASE[®] Identifiers from 1EdTech & EdGate

Utilizing CASE, publishers are provided educational standards that are accurate, cost-effective, and easily integrated into third-party platforms.

CASE benefits include:

Universal identifiers for education competencies allowing any tool or application to share information between systems easily.

Electronic Exchange of competency definitions so applications, systems, and tools can readily access and manage this data.

Specific information about rubrics used to delineate performance expectations around a task, product or performance.

What is CASE?

CASE® is the 1EdTech (formerly IMS Global) community-developed standard that facilitates the exchange of information about learning and education competencies in an open, machine-readable format.

EdGate provides standards in CASE format beyond ELA and Math identifiers including:

- Social Studies
- Science
- Art
- Health and PE
- World Languages
- SEL
- CTE
- Early Childhood

Plus: International standards & standards published by nonprofit or private organizations.
